Be a college admissions committee for the night and learn how decisions are made!

Join representatives from top colleges and universities to get a behind-the-scenes look at the college admissions process. For the evening, you will decide who will be admitted, waitlisted, and denied in this interactive event. All are welcome, however, this program will also highlight information pertaining to multicultural admissions for students of color and the financial aid process for first-generation and low-income students. Speakers will highlight opportunities such as QuestBridge, POSSE, the Ron Brown Scholarship, as well as additional financial aid resources to help pay for college. During registration, a resource fair will offer information about local college access programs as well as summer opportunities.

Schools present will include:

Barnard College, Bowdoin College, Dillard University, Fisk University, Franklin & Marshall College, Hamilton College, Kenyon College, Northwestern University, Princeton University, Smith College, University of Notre Dame, University of Rochester, Tulane University, Wesleyan University, and Xavier University.
